

Box it. Arrow it. Star it.

Thursday 10:00

studio room 2 · bring your 3 markers

3 markers
→ 3 jobs

black → words
everything you'd write anyway

blue → structure
boxes, arrows, frames

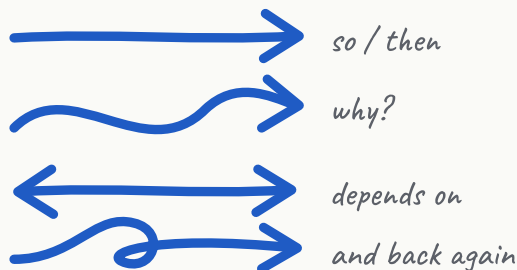

orange → the ONE thing
stars, underlines, circles

1 · BOX IT

- one idea per box → a box is a promise
- words first, box after (or it's too small)
- corners overshoot → overshoot = alive

2 · ARROW IT

3 · STAR IT

- one star per page. ONE.
- star → circle → underline, on one thing
- if everything is orange → nothing is

RESCUE A WALL OF TEXT →

Weekly sync, Tue. Talked about the support inbox again. Customers wait 3 days for a reply, sometimes more, and nobody knows who is on the inbox today. It is a shared inbox, so five of us look at it and nobody owns it. Sam says shared inbox = no owner. Lena asked about a rota. Idea: one owner per day on a simple rota. Try it for two weeks, then check the wait time again. Also the printer is broken again. Next sync: Tue.

